

Railways

STRATA provides legal and administrative assistance and advice for complex construction projects concerning high capacity and high speed rail networks – a sector in which STRATA, engaged right from the onset of the implementation projects, is a leader – as well as railway nodes and station infrastructures in which railway interventions, in the strict sense, must be functionally combined with civil exchange and station structures.

STRATA's extremely high specialisation with regard to the procurement and authorisation processes connected with such projects makes it a unique point of reference for public and private contracting authorities.
